

Advertisement for CLINICAL ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF MEDICINE position for the Indiana University School of Medicine-West Lafayette

The Indiana University School of Medicine – West Lafayette (IUSM-WL) on the Campus of Purdue University is searching for a part-time (0.75 CUL), 10-month Clinical Assistant Professor of Medicine positions on its teaching faculty. Successful applicants will become a Purdue University non-tenure track faculty member. Successful applicants will be primarily responsible for serving as a Course Director for an introductory physician skills course for first and second year medical students. They will provide administrative and educational oversight of a team of physicians helping to teach a clinically oriented course in Fundamentals of Clinical Practice. They will also serve as a Master Clinical instructor for a group of 10-12 students and participate in other Center teaching and administrative activities as a faculty member including, e.g., involvement in clinical skills training (history and physical exams), supervision of small group discussions and activities, and one-on-one mentoring with individual students. The IUSM plans to implement a new systems-based curriculum to be delivered at all regional campuses in 2016. Candidates must possess an M.D. and be board certified or board eligible in a medical specialty.

Applicants should direct inquiries or send a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, and list of references (MS Word or PDF format) to Dr. Regina A. Kreisle, (rkreisle@purdue.edu), interim associate dean and director of the IUSM-WL. Review of applications will begin 15 July and will continue until the position is filled. Position is available beginning 1 August 2016. Further information about the IUSM-WL and the Indiana University School of Medicine can be obtained at the following URLs: <http://medicine.iu.edu> and <http://lafayette.medicine.iu.edu/>. A background check will be required for employment in this position. The IUSM-WL is located in Lyles Porter Hall on the Purdue Campus. Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.
